I got the news yesterday the war in the middle east is over, but in south america the first shots had just been fired to start a new one, they interviewed a lady who had seen a bank robbery from a tellers line, she said all she could really see was that the man had a big gun.

And I say hey hey where we going, hey hey where we been, oh oh the rivers flowing, and were running a race we'll never win.

A friend of man got fired from his job because of a drug test, he said man thats the first joint I've smoked six months he had his job eight years, oh big brother want you help me I sure could use a hand, justice protects our values and provokes our deepest fears.

Truth is stranger than fiction and blood is thicker than truth, an idea may be good or bad but it's only an idea just the same, corruption knows no limits when it's on a roll, and the quickest way out is to have a good intention to blame.

I was on my way home from work down twelfth avenue, I saw a man on the side of the road with a sign that said I'm hungry give if your able, then I went down a few blocks toward home, and I saw another sign that said

And I say hey hey where we going, hey hey where we been, oh oh the rivers flowing, and were running a race we better win.
