Spent Saturday sittin' all alone
Thinkin' about the day that I'll be leavin' home
Heard from a friend of mine just the other day
We talked for an hour before we had to say...
So now I'm sittin here, hopin' to move on Nothing really matters now that you are gone
Don't know where I'm goin, not sure where I've been Trying desperately to get back there again...
Spent sleepless nights starin' at the walls
Tried to find the comfort in the summer rain that falls
And I'm scared to death that he's taking you away Won't even give me a chance to say what I want to say...
Let's find a way
Let's runaway...
Let's runaway...
Let's runaway...
