WILD BLUE

Â© Electric Babylon Music Author: M.M.

In the river of time, where the water flows for the wine, in the sacred

stream, the loin will share this dream.

All things move with the flowing, wisdom comes with the knowing, all

motion moves toward the center, one day peace will come.

In the tower of rain. the martyrs pray in vain, the light that leaves us

blind, in the darkness of our mind.

All things live with the season, life itself is the reason, falling bodies move

with the sense, one day peace will come.

In the color of wild blue, the cosmos calls to you, the blood of beauty's

beast, the fool tends wisdom's feast.

All things move with the flowing, wisdom comes from the knowing, that's just Prometheus dreaming, one day peace will come.

In the river of time, where the water flows to the sea of wine, all things

keep in peace, one day all worlds shall cease.
