Hook

Mr. Blue

I told you that I love You please believe me

Mr. Blue

I have to go now don't be angry

Marty

To me a frown and a smile are the very same

And feeling like you are a loner is a scary thing

And I could say I'm not afraid, but it isn't true

Depression is an old friend I call Mr. Blue

And we've been hanging out a lot for a while now

Usually this is a subject that I'd lie about

But someone told me I should try and give a clue

But that's nothing I want to do

See, sleep is the cousin of death, but that ain't near yet

Gossip is the cousin of death like Rob Dyrdek

So I stay away cause, I don't want to say what

Bothers me cause I'll probably dread it like jamaicans

But, I'll turn the proper lights on

I can't tell my girl it will shocker/chaka like khan

Sorry Mr. Blue I'd love to sit and stay

But I've got a date with destiny and she is on her way

Hook

Mr. Blue

I told you that I love You please believe me

Mr. Blue

I have to go now don't be angry

Marty

I see Tender Love and Care through my left eye

Rest in peace to those deceased and those who survived

I just swallowed my pride

Now it's chilling in the belly of the beast next to burgers and fries

Ya'll are living a lie

I can't be what you want me to be

And what I ought to be seems really awkward to me

And every night when when I write I feel awfully free

And when I stop I feel the orphan in me
& it's exaughsting to me
I used to say I hated being depressed
But I think that I've succumb to all the hatred and stress Cause I hated all the hatred I felt
I loved you but I hated myself, I lost faith in myself
I want to erase all the pain that you felt
But I know that I can't
NOW I'm sitting with this pen in my hand
And if you're still vibing out to this poem that I spit
I want to thank you all for not fast forwarding yet
