rolling in on fumes to rock the show.
we don't need fortune and we don't need fame.
we don't need bright lights to spell our name.
all we ever wanted was to play.
raise your voice, shout it out.
we weren't the first but we're holding our own.
ten long years ago those seeds were sown.
a song in your heart picks you up when you're down.
we like the songs we play we love this sound.
we're just like you straight from the crowd.
hold fast to your friends.
be true to yourself.
and stop trying to be just like somebody else...
be yourself, play it loud.
