You're only interested when your power's threatened You're only paranoid 'cause you know what you're doing
You know what you've done and what you're about to do

The conspiracy to your inconsistency
Could it be your spirit's dead?

Why do you run away when faced with these questions?
I know you know it but you just won't say
You built this conformist system

You built this state and now you're falling down
The conspiracy to your inconsistency
Could it be your spirit's dead?

Your education teaches us not to resist
Subjects don't question kings, it's disrespect
They slam you in the face with their fist

You'll do anything to keep from falling down
The conspiracy to your inconsistency
Could it be your spirit's dead?
