I'll try to shed some common sense
Situation so intense
Many questions, don't know, whys
And all the lies got tempers risin'

Two or three sides to it all
Just one truth if I recall
Looking to and thinking through
The word of God infinite, true

If you want honest answers
I know you do, say it's true
We all want honest answers
Something true, it's nothing new

You're threatened by
What you don't understand
And it's time
Give up yourself
Why won't you stop facading?
This wicked world

So set in the ways
You've been taught day after day
This nations brainwashed without a clue
Still they know not what they do

I can't cast the stone
'Cause I've got problems of my own
But I'm discussing, being real
This is just the way I feel

If you want honest answers
I know you do, say it's true
We all want honest answers
Something true, it's nothing new

You're threatened by
What you don't understand
And it's time
Give up yourself
Why won't you stop facading?

This wicked world

You're threatened by
What you don't understand
And it's time
Give up yourself
Why won't you stop facading?
This wicked world
