You wake up in the morning, don't remember a thing
But now your face is staring back from magazines
This is everything you've ever dreamed

Rapid hearts are beating, faster breathing
Punk rock celebrity is, oh so fleeting

Don't push that red button, it'll blow up your face
You feel like your whole life you've been running a race
Is there anybody with you in this place?

Rapid hearts are beating, faster breathing
Punk rock celebrity is, oh so fleeting

Punk rock celebrity is an oxymoron
To be a PRC, a punk rock celebrity
Put all your best clothes, your best make up on

You've made such a big mess, but let's call it success
You've made such a big mess, let's just call it success

But we all know, we all know, we all know you
We all know, we all know, we all know you
But we all know, we know it just isn't true
But we all know, we all know, we all know you
