There's somethin' crazy, somethin' strange about
The way I'm lazy and how I go about
Givin' my time and how I reason
Do all my problems have to do with how I reason?

Don't feel bad if you haven't figured out
'Cause I'm not mad, there's really no need to shout
There's really no way you could have estimated
That you would ever in your life be so frustrated

If you knew what was good for you
You'd lock me up an' throw away the key
You don't need me and no, you never will
You never did as far as I can tell

Should I wake up and explain myself to you
Or should I not care and sleep the whole day through Findin' the sense in everythin'
Is like goin' through my head to find a diamond ring

Livin' day by day is all that I can say
Somethin' to believe in might be the other way
We can't know for sure until we open the door
Inherent choices, choices I can't take anymore

If you knew what was good for you
You'd lock me up an' throw away the key
You don't need me and no, you never will
You never did as far as I can tell

If you knew what was good for you
You'd lock me up an' throw away the key
You don't need me and no, you never will
You never did as far as I can tell you
