Now, I
I don't want to fight I know we're getting tired of crying every night and waste, each and every day pointing out the bad things we didn't mean to say

Now we we could never be happy in the future with distance in between now, should I, let this difference, rip us apart nothing is worse than, our silence of heart

Yeah
I am torn from head to toe, and ripping out my soul, yeah serving out this sentence for no crime

From the chair onto the floor
What once was there is here no more so Piece by piece I'm taking back what's mine.

from the floor, and into the fire another soul made into a lair to find myself, what will it take from mine and yours and heaven's sake

I am torn from head to toe, and
ripping out my soul, yeah
serving out this sentence for no crime

From the chair onto the floor
What once was there is here no more so
Piece by piece I'm taking back what's mine.
I said, piece by piece I'm taking back what's mine
