You're in L.A. and I'm in Hell
'Cause everywhere is Hell when you're not there Prepaid calling cards ain't got no time
The love got plenty reason but no rhyme

You can't tell me that it don't mean a thing
When I look into my eyes anything
Can't you see the common ground?
You know how I long to be down
It's not a phase that I'm going through

I'm living to see your smile, oh Lord, I'm loving you
From over 3000 miles away and if you were on Saturn
I'd try to take a rocketship just to see you baby you're the bomb
Take a rocketship just to see you baby, you're the one

It seems as if I'm galaxies away
But I'll take a trip to where you stay
And love will be the vessel that I need
No more that a two seated ride

So baby, won't you please come occupy my life
I waited all my life
Oh baby, for someone like you to come my way
All I can say is

I'm living to see your smile, oh Lord, I'm loving you
From over 3000 miles away and if you were on Saturn
I'd try to take a rocketship just to see you, baby, you're
the bomb
Take a rocketship just to see you, baby, you're the one

Take a rocketship just to see you, baby, you're the one
Take a rocketship just to see you, baby, you're the one
Take a rocketship just to see you, baby, you're the one
Take a rocketship just to see you, baby, you're the one

Rocketship just to see you, baby, you're the one
You're the one
