I Don't know what to say
I don't know what to say
I don't know what to say
I don't know what (to say),

I could say I want you that would be a bore
Maybe in a font you've haven't seen before
I could say I'll haunt you 'till your dying day,
I could tease and taunt you, but what would I say?

See, I don't know what to say
I don't know what to say
I don't know what to say
I don't know what (to say)

I could say I crave you (steeley little brat)
I could rant and rave, you know I can do that I could say I gave you everything I had
I could say I'll save you, you might think me mad

So, I don't know what to say,
I don't know what to say
I don't know what to say
I don't know what to say

I could try and lead you down the garden path
I could say I'll feed you, you can do the math
I could say I need you, offer you a ring
I can guarantee you don't believe a thing

So, I don't know what to say,
I don't know what to say
I don't know what to say
I don't know what to say

I could try and shove you off the nearest cliff,
I could say I'd...
