I know you're not that strong
But if you were we would've gotten along this time
I was only hanging out
Just waitin' for my wings
Just wasting time with you it seems

I know you're not already there
Because if you were you wouldn't mind what I said all
The time
You were mistaken, I was misunderstood
I'd never hurt you if I could

The thing that I could never relate
Is the thing that I never would trade
Trying not to settle down
Yeah, I'm trying all the time

Hanging on breaking ground
Sounding like some other sound
If you hear this anywhere tonight
It's a liar

So late at night on your radio
At the end of the dial but too slow to mind these times

I was only hanging out, waiting for my wings
Just wasting time with you it seems
You were mistaken
Oh and I was misunderstood
I'd never hurt you if I could
No I wouldn't hurt you if I could
