She Used To Smile

Drag the River

See this picture, I never forget
It was taken on the night we met
And I can't help but think of the days
When we talked about running away

See this picture, it's all I have
It reminds me of the times we had
We had a fight, maybe a few
Now she's with him, and I'm with you

Did you see the way she smiled at him
Like there's nothing in the world but them?
It reminds me of the way things used to be
She don't have to say what her face says anyway

Cuz that's the way she used to smile at me

See this van, it's where I live
It's the one we took vacations in
And this picture says a lot
Nothing remembered, everything forgotten

There's no picture, there's nothing left
All along I've been kidding myself
Maybe someday I'll think of some way
To let her out of my grasp

Did you see the way she smiled at him
Like there's nothing in the world but them?
It reminds me of the way things used to be
She don't have to say what her face says anyway

Cuz that's the way she used to smile at me

We've all got our pictures don't we?
We've all got our pride
We've all got our weak spots
The ones that we try to hide

Did you see the way she smiled at him

Like there's nothing in the world but them?
It reminds me of the way things used to be
She don't have to say what her face says anyway

Cuz that's the way she used to smile at me

That's the way she used to smile at me
