“Lakeeffect II”

To wander so blindly amongst
All these creatures tempt me
To stumble right off of this path
I’ve been roaming and I’ve finally found
It’s our existence we risk
Luciferian deviance

And assume what you like and what
What you’ll find
While closing eyes
Isn’t so obvious
And assume what you like and what
And you will...
What you’ll see...

I rest my head against the glass
Closed my eyes and it wished it pass
Along with what’s been put aside

I can’t escape
There’s a current in here pulling me in
To these parallel opposing sides

Look Above Karma Entirely For Foes Easily Can Trick

As long as this well never dries
Because I won’t promise to keep....

Echoing footsteps march in stride with
Beads of rain as they rattle restlessly
Up against the glass in this endless lakeeffect
