When you're privileged you don't even know you're privileged

When you're not, you know

When you're happy you don't even know you're happy

When you're not, you know

Righteous, heathen

Blinded and seeing

You're next, you're before

You're pompous, you are poor

You're hungry, yet strangely, you're working like crazy

Selling, buying

Laughing and crying

High, low, middle

High, low, middle, middle

High, low, middle

Keep yourself low, but not too low

Saving, wasting

Dying for a tasting

Banging for a buck

And you're shit and out of luck

Are you fat or are you eating up your hat?

Are you fat?

Are you?

High, low, middle

High, low, middle, middle

High, low, middle

Keep yourself low, but not too low

Lord help you when you're growing old

Lord help you when you're tired and cold

Lord help you when the dealing's done

Lord help you when the gettin's gone (x2)

High low middle
High low middle
High low middle
Keep yourself low, but not too low
