Spellbound

I cannot raise you from the grave
Cannot be the one to save you
I cannot bring you from the dead
Cannot kill the demons in your head, from your bed

But you seem to want a doll upon your arm
Melt the wax down the back of your babyboo charm
But I watch you add the candles to your shrine
Didn't take long for you to make it mine

But I cannot be God to you
I said, I cannot be God to you
I cannot be God to you
I said I cannot be God to you

I will not be the vein and fix
Cannot be the one to fix the sickness
Won't be the martyr gagged and bound
Won't let you take me down
Spellbound, spellbound

'Cause I cannot be God to you
I said I cannot be God to you
I cannot be God to you
I said I cannot be God to you

I cannot be something I'm not
I cannot be just what you want
Can only be what I am
Can only be who I am
I cannot be something I'm not
I can only be who I am
Who I am, who I am

I cannot be God to you
Cannot be your God
There is only one God
