Happy (sinclair)

Happy is a word to work on, everytime.
I don't care how people stare when our hearts shine.
with opened eyes I see the clouds are changing,
Love has opened truth to almost everything.

Into a secret garden, where you walk with me.
I don't know how far to go to guide my destiny.
Say that we can stay here till the time for kids has past.
Until we both become star scattered guests
among the grass
