When this started out I was afraid of what I would become, And I never felt so disposed and so alone, Comfort is Strange, but I trust it with you, all the tears I've shed and this hell I've lived is bearable.

When they said you were gone, I think I died too,
because I will always feel like half a person.

Take this day away, take these memories, take these dreams away, take whats left of me, take my heart
away, take my energy, the sun will never shine.

Tonight. There is nobody on my side, and your memory
fills my mind, just relax and shut your tired eyes, Tonight. I wait here for you. Theres so many things I never said.

Can I say Goodbye. Can I say Goodbye.
Can I say Goodbye. Can I say Goodbye.
