Ea, The sky turns red and darker The most glorious profane from thy art is ripping my heart to say Let me get through thy eyes of night and discover the most of pleasure
Another voice of thine will be another land to enlighten into thy nations
'Cause I know I have realized there's no fire that shines so bright and so strong I leave my own on thee to be another flame of thy fire...

Ea, I know there's no heat greater The pool of fire which burns down in hell is nothing but a winter when thou manifest Thyself for me, thy servant who is ready to be I can't comprehend thy secrets of times but I know there thou art and I worship thy shine Which no one can see because the pain in the eyes and the burning of thy wings of the blackest fire There's no flame on earth and no power else to compare to thy majesty, lord by excellence...

I endure to be by thy side lord of the obscure of light I consume to be part of thy light... Make me the center of the universe one day thou created To reign over with power of chaos...

I do not care my soul's away in thee Now I am one with thee and my fire burns within...

They're rising, they're moving, the shadows from beyond Thy spirit flows anywhere, and thy presence fills with cold
"The noun of thy essence is the fire of hell but the shine I see black from the souls of the dead"

Oe, thou'll be shining beyond the end of time Shining as a black star as it emanates it's cold thy spell whispers in my ears I am the one elected, and I must cast thy spell to convert all warming fire into thy cold blow Make my spirit stronger to transcend my weak man mind and speed up as thy light I know thou master

"As a sword thy ice and as a void thy light Because you made the fire burn cold and black" Hail!

Master of Evil and Power of Man...
Open up thy veins of sapience to build my crown and reign in thy name

Open The Gate!
The Portal to thy knowledge...
Take thy crown. To build the Flame

Thou endure me, light to me. Take my self beyond Beautiful landscape from thy fury. Nothing leaves thy own
All the fire burned so black evil succumb profound Decadence of life's beauty fades away as I feel thy calm Cold and Black, I don't understand thy wings of fire... involving the earth...
