Bury me down and dig up the hole
Take another step to steal my soul
Drowning control to feed
The flames of translucent dreams

Like a fly reaching to the light
Blinding eyes and drifting out of sight
It's burning you low
When too much is not enough for you

Stars align fractions of eternity
I'm lost in false sense of security
Constellation to holes in the bleeding sky
Spirit emulating creature
Peeling in as something dies
Interweaved to it's web, grasping our lives

Bury me down and dig up the hole
Take another step to steal my soul
Drowning control to feed
The flames of translucent dreams

Like a fly reaching to the light
Blinding eyes and drifting out of sight
It's burning you low
When too much is not enough for you

Bury me down and dig up the hole
Take another step to steal my soul
Drowning control to feed
The flames of translucent dreams

Like a fly reaching to the light
Blinding eyes and drifting out of sight
It's burning you low
When too much is not enough for you

Mind tricks behind my eyes
Plugged in to follow my demons in disguise

Stars aligning fragments of the memories

Parallel truth, awaken in translucence
Sealed by this deadened song
Sinking in toneless comatose

Come and tear my skin, fear what's within

Dig in to yourself and bury the bones
Delve inside to drown in oblivion's holes
Come and tear my skin, fear what's within
Explore my every sin and she'd my skin

Bury me down and dig up the hole
Take another step to steal my soul
Drowning control to feed
The flames of translucent dreams

Like a fly reaching to the light
Blinding eyes and drifting out of sight
It's burning you low
When too much is not enough for you

Mind tricks behind my eyes
Plugged in to follow my demons in disguise

Stars aligning fragments of the memories
Parallel truth, awaken in translucence
Sealed by this deadened song
Sinking in toneless comatose

It's massive darkness filling my world
Submerged rage writing unspoken words
