

Emily Lynch

"Amy's Song"

Visit "Amy's Song" on MotoLyrics.com

It started again on the drive
I was watching you dose off
Your hands by your side
A pillow in your lap and mine
You found love listening
To Bob Dylan's 'Nashville Skyline'

I tried to warn you
But I never did, never did
I tried to make you
But I never did, never did
I tried to save you
But I never win, never win

There's a hole in my head keeping time
When it stops ticking we'll start the rest of our lives
I found out my reasons to hide
They weren't reasons at all I was just acting tired
Can we lie?

I tried to sketch it
But I never did, never did
I tried to think it
But I never think anything
I'll try to save you
But I never save anything
So I'll try to love you
It's the only thing that I can

Oh devour your plans with your tongue
There's a man that can show us the right way to turn
I trust that you'll stay by my side
Oh I trust that you'll stay by my side
Do we die, do we fly?

I'll paint a picture of everything everywhere
And you'll be the answer to anyone anywhere
They'll try to break you but you'll never tear, never tear
They'll try to end us but we'll never care, never care

