Its time to think this through
I know that everyone, whos anyone will know
How it feels to be alone
As the eyes burn deep upon you
There's no need to run

Just tell me exactly what you need
And show me exactly what it means

Its time to think this through
And start to forget regretting
Im never letting go to what i want
(What i want) what do you want?
Its time to make my move
And start to forget regretting
Im never letting go to what i want
(What i want) what do you want?
From me?

Its time to make my move
Because what's left to lose
Is less than what is lost
The rest is left to be
Unknown and a new life
Will be waiting for you
Right here next to me

Just tell me exactly what you need
And show me exactly what it means

Its time to think this through
And start to forget regretting
Im never letting go to what i want
(What i want) what do you want?
Its time to make my move
And start to forget regretting
Im never letting go to what i want
(What i want) what do you want?
From me?
