Gonna take these hands on over
Put these filthy lies to bed
Wrap you up in dirty blankets
Rub my lotion on your head
I ate your stale manna
Long before it was cornbread
And I knew a demon lady
I can't remember what she said
And she was a good friend
But please don't make me feel you again
Please
Please don't make me feel you again

I sailed my ship into ya
Turned your sky from gray to red
Watch your adulation
As your precious stones were bled
And if you need an answer
I'll be just around the bend
Peering through my looking glass
And verifying you attend

The courtesies you extend...

But please don't make me feel you again
Please
Please don't make me feel you again

I can't explain it but I know that it's not right
Dress yourself in evil gravy
Hoping I would take a bite tonight
You've stated your mind
But I've never stated mine
And when I do
You're gonna drown
In all the meanings that you find
Between the lines

You try to devastate me
With those letters that you send
Rewriting revelations

So my faith will not suspend
As I proceed to the end
But please don't make me feel you again
Please
Please don't make me feel you again
