"A Miracle"

Are we still young enough for a miracle?
young enough for the first time in your lives?

after years of hiding
all those fears inside me wondering if our dreams had passed us by always believing
I was used to the pain
now that I found you nothing could be the same

have we really learned to be satisfied with the lives we've had or are we wise enough to both realise that we've never had a chance like this before sharing all our feelings giving life a meaning

letting all our tears
just roll away
now that you're near me it's so easy to see
we can discover
the children we used to be
