I woke up,
To find the earth split in two,
Some blamed me,
But I blame you.

Understand,
When we were children, there was pain.
But in the end of it all,
You were insane..

Is there a reason?
For us all...
That something like circumstance?
Would let me fall...

Greetings from the moon...

Your too late,
And we are confused,
We wander in circles,
Wondering what to do?

10 years, have passed me by,
Have passed me by,
As I stare in the depths of the eye,
That watches over you, and let's me, Die..

Is there a reason?
To believe...
That something like circumstance?
Would let me bleed...

Greetings from the moon...

Paging paradise, a who oh ooo..

Greetings from the moon...
