We all have fucking dreams that sometimes became true

That's why we are too ambitious because we want some more

Don't think that I'm crazy I tell you no fucking way

Now it's not a dream, now it's not the same

Who you think you are? You are not a God... No way

Always looking for a reason to begin a new fight

Rules were made to be broken that's the way we live our life

Don't expect me to surrender I am ready for the war

We all have fucking dreams that sometimes became true

Rules were made to be broken that's the way we live our life

Never say that we're losers we are better than you

Through these words of denial

Your point of view almost prevail

Every day we get even stronger

Your words make no sense any longer

We all have fucking dreams that sometimes became true

That's why we are too ambitious because we want some more

Don't think that I'm crazy I tell you no fucking way

Now it's not a dream, now it's not the same

Who you think you are? You are not a God

Now it's not a dream, now it's not the same

Who you think you are? You are not a God... No way
