

First Signs Of Frost "Day Of The Collapse"

Visit "Day Of The Collapse" on MotoLyrics.com

Crows circle the sky watching our every move scavenging around for scraps as if they knew they would not survive

Coz only time will tell and determine our fate here or are we just a lost cause? can our empty shells be filled with hope of seeing another day

No angels take flight their grounded here with no purpose served so witness hell on earth my friend what's left here to preserve, now observe Coz only time will tell and determine our fate here
or are we just a lost cause?
can our empty shells be filled with hope of seeing
another day

So we fall to our knees in disbelief so we fall to our knees on this day of the collapse

So take my hand and lets run coz the end's here now
