Because I was too nervous at that time
You may think I was strange
Gaze on you makes me fanciful
I craved to stay the same
I touched your palm carelessly
It made me felt nutritious
Walking with you is my ambition
Life is packed with fresh direction

They say you are arrogant
But I believe you are kindhearted
I have no mood to plan how to tell you the truth
They say you are arrogant
But I think you are so right
I have no heart to consider
How can I make you itch?

Because I was so flurried at that time
I couldn't show you my talent
I want to count sheep with you
Each night dreaming joyously
At last I went to the football field with you
Rambled more in Pak Tin Shopping Centre
And glanced over those pop idols photos
Wish you weren't so educated

They say you are arrogant
But I believe you are kindhearted
I have no mood to plan how to tell you the truth
They say you are arrogant
But I think you are so gorgeous
I have no heart to consider
How can I make you itch?

I have become melancholic and sentimental
No, I can't make you smile
