It's Kate's first time to a friend's wedding
Everyone looked nice with their nice dresses
Kate hugged the bride and gave her best blessing
She was arranged to sit next to Jane
Jane smiled to Kate with no talking
Kate was confused and Jane felt interesting
When you see her smile you'll understand why
See-through blouse and perfume, heels and silk stockings
Jane don't wear those things
She's simply brightening
So that's life not just for a night
Champagne hid our secrets of lives
And that is it you need no wondering
You're no more a little girl.

After two days Jane messaged Kate
"mon cheri" "mon cheri"
Jane called Kate
Oh who could help Kate she'd fallen for Jane
She can't explain why her taste has changed
They didn't kiss in their first date
Felt shy and smiling, forgot everything.
Oh little Kate, our tastes can change
See how it started in the crowded wedding
So that is it you cannot quit the game
And that's love not just for a night
Champagne hid their secrets of pink
And that is it they cannot quit the game

Kate's no more a little girl
Jane's no more a little girl
You're no more a little girl
You're no more a little girl
