Red lights flashing down the highway
Wondering if we're ever gonna get home
Wondering if we're ever gonna get home tonight
Everywhere the water's getting rough
Best intentions may not be enough
Wondering if we're ever gonna get home tonight

But if you break down
I'd drive out and find you
And if you forget my love
I'd try to remind you

Oh and stay by you
When it don't come easy
When it don't come easy

I don't know nothing 'cept change will come
Year after year what we do is undone
Time gets moving from a crawl to a run
Wondering if we're ever gonna get home

You're out here walking down the highway
And all of the signs got blown away
Sometimes you wonder if you're
Walking in the wrong direction

But if you break down
I'd drive out and find you
And if you forget my love
I'd try to remind you

Oh and stay by you
When it don't come easy
When it don't come easy

So many things that I had before
That don't matter to me now
Tonight I cry for the love I've lost
And the love that I've never found

When the last bird falls

And the last siren sounds
Someone will say what's been said before
Some love that we were looking for

Red lights flashing down the highway
Wondering if we're ever gonna get home
Wondering if we're ever gonna get home tonight

Red lights flashing down the highway
Wondering if we're ever gonna get home
Wondering if we're ever gonna get home tonight
