Strangulation,
I don't wanna feel a thing
When your hands close tight around my neck
To force the air that I breathe,
I don't wanna feel a thing, I don't wanna feel a thing

Yeah she was a young girl,
'Bout the age of twenty three
Somehow the lord never smiled down upon her
So she flew out on a breeze,
Said I don't feel a thing,
I don't wanna feel a thing

Sure he was a good kid,
But his phone it'd never ring
He got tired of walking a tightrope, and needing too much to drink
So he got on one knee,
"I don't wanna feel a thing"

But I know there's someone that loves up above
And wants to fix you a dream,
Wants to sit down and think,
Wants to pour you a drink,
And you won't feel a thing,
No you won't feel a thing
