I quit going to the places you and I used to go When I heard you'd been callin' me that old silly so and so
Was I silly when I kissed you was I just your favorite clown
Was I just another standing until another came around Forgive me for loving you pardon me if I still cry When I see you with someone new I just wish that I could die
Oh you threw me out of your life I can't help it if I'm blue Excuse me for living if this is living without you [piano]
Seems I'm always in your way to appoint you I have tried
That just doesn't seem to be a place big enough for me to hide
I'll do anything to please you I won't call you up again
You don't have to say you know me just let me see you now and then Forgive me for loving you...
Excuse me for living if this is living without you
