Let's put our world back together I have no world
without you

When you told me that we were through Half of my world walked away with you
You took the sunshine that brighten my skies Left me with darkness and tears in my eyes Let's put our world back together bring back the love we once knew
Let's put our world back together I have no world
without you

Half of world is such a lonely place
It's filled with mem'ries I can't erase Echoes of true love from sweet yesterday
Later caused tearsdrops can't wash them away Let's put our world back together...
