"When You Wake Up"

I'll be here when you wake up and start loving me

The warmest heart your woman's touch brings the man right out in me

You're everything a man could want his woman to be Such a pretty sight for sleepy eyes to wake up and see
And I'll be here when you wake up and start loving me

The feeling that I feel for you God knows it can't be wrong

Cause it's your kind of loving that keeps me going strong

It's so hard to wait till you wake up from your beaty sleep

I'll be here when you wake up and start loving me
