Falling low and living slow
In a world that you built
One brick at a time
What's on your mind
That makes you wanna tear
It all down

And I see all the things
That you would change
Oh just to blame
But time's gone
Times gone now
And that's tearing you down

And I don't wanna watch
You break this in two
Cause if its not me, I don't want to see

Full of doubt

And lies about
The freedom that you found
One brick at a time
Your last crime
Oh Its tearing me down
Its tearing me down

And I don't wanna watch
You break this in two
Cause if its not me, I don't want to see
If its not me, I don't wanna see
So if its not me, I don't wanna see

Falling low and living slow
In a world that you built
