Why yes I fell for the bait, correct it's now too late
Just watch me now as I chase my tail for dollar bills
I've constructed these walls forever they'll stand tall
Cause if I lead these no motherfuckers in my way

Look at me as I fall to the ground
Come with me as I'm dragging you down
I'll be your night, I'll be your death
I'll be your nothing for never, and ever

I position myself just right in the dead of night as I'm seep inside of you
The brightest silhouette, the darkest shining star, and I'm inching my way through
I position myself just right in the dead of night so you are all I see
I've ate all the breadcrumbs baby and you will never Find your way to me

I watch this clock go by, the thirteenth hour high but it gives me time to rip these fucking knives out of my spine
No more paralyzed, no more in disguise
I'm on my knees but I'm still two steps ahead of you

Look at me as I fall to the ground
Come with me as I'm dragging you down
I'll be your night, I'll be your death
I'll be your nothing for never, and ever

I position myself just right in the dead of night as I'm
seep inside of you
The brightest silhouette, the darkest shining star, and
I'm inching my way through
I position myself just right in the dead of night so you
are all I see
I've ate all the breadcrumbs baby and you will never
Find your way to me
No...I can't...I won't
I peel off my skin for another one...
I peel off my skin for another one...
