I'd set out on 15 oceans
I know there aint that many on earth just goes to show you how far I'd go dear just goes to show me what you're worth

There was a time when I roamed around I'd say my rambling days are done I'd been chasing black & white rainbows come to find there aint a one

I'd been sleeping, I'd been biding I was told to wait my turn when I was young I flew my airplane, played with matches, crashed & burned

I was told to pull my punches still I'd been taking them on the chin for all the time I spent on my backside who'd have thought I'd ever win
