Forget a long introduction here to check ya'll for a moment

As of now, you are officially my non opponent

That position you got you like it huh (keep it)

Seen the garden that you got and I would never wanna reap it

And the house you built that's some real pretty glass

And your image is alright but I can still see your mask

And folks is askin is my life complicated cuz' it took so long

To get this wax created but ya'll know

I just been payin' my dues

Feet on the ground, head in the clouds a bit confused

As to when 'n how the house built fell down

Why ya'll more about the money than the texture and sound

But astoundingly everything's 360

It was all about you but now the true heads with me

So, go on ya'll keep playin the role

Cuz when the heavens made me they broke the mold

Yo boo, what's your budget, did you top a mill?

Give up half your pub, that's a fucked up deal

And it's almost funny but not really

Shoulda studied the biz 'stead a tryin' to be pretty

And them cat's who write your rhymes give 'em my respect

It's damn near a crime that doe changes credits and edits

Monthly mags and reviews

They did a good job couldn't miss 'em pimpin you

And them song you on how much you say you see?

I might get 1% of that and still flow for free

But, Im a goddess with a true school foundation

You got a bowl of poison tryin feed the nation

I feel your hesitation on relatin' to me

If you skippin' this track you not hatin' on me

You just havin' a moment where my world's to bright

But you supposed to do that it's only right
