Let bygones be bygones, your silly games make me tired, i am from the moon, so i feel like i can see your world

but i've been blind,
so blind, cause i didnt know,
i wonder if you kissed him,
your a different kind, different kind,
and when true feelings show, im from a different solar system

i try to see if my wondering, could change a single thing or help at all,
but the truth, with all my wondering,
more in love with you i fall.
your eyes say yes,
but your lips dont move,
and let it be known i break when im not with you, one more request id like to throw,
Dont Go.

(Instrumental verse)

but i've been blind,
so blind, cause i didnt know,
i wonder if you kissed him,
your a different kind, different kind,
and when true feelings show,

i try to see if my wondering,
could change a single thing or help at all,
but the truth, with all my wondering,
more in love with you i fall.
your eyes say yes,
but your lips dont move,
and let it be known i break when im not with you,
one more request id like to throw,
Dont Go.

(interlude)

i sing this song as i break down, my lifes complete when your around,
i'd bring my heart out on a dish,
as you wish,
the loves confused,
and simple threads,
are weaved between our bobbing heads,
it wouldnt show.

i sing this song as i break down,
my lifes complete when your around,
i'd bring my heart out on a dish,
as you wish,
the loves confused,
and simple threads,
are weaved between our bobbing heads,
it wouldnt show.
