

Graham Isaacson "Love Replaces Love"

Visit "Love Replaces Love" on MotoLyrics.com

Sometimes when I see her Suddenly a glance goes just a little deeper She floats into the run My sweet man she calls me Love replaces love more love than I ever thought I'd ever meet

And from this holly vantage I've learned her bodies language

Love replaces love with the meeting of hands and the warmth of a blanket love replaces love the mood a kiss in the arms of a doorway
that's how it is with her

Love replaces love
Sometimes when she's leaving her car has pulled away and i just stand there breathing and all the way to town my sweet woman calms me
love replaces love
with the way i love her when she's gone

Later in the evening when she comes back from leaving

Love replaces love with the meeting of hands and the
warmth of a blanket
love replaces love the mood a kiss in the arms of a
doorway
love replaces love with the length a smile through the glass of a window
that's how it is with her

Visit Graham Isaacson page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.