She took my love,
She wore it down
And it looked good all over town
But ill be ok

She shot me at sunrise right between the eyes
She shot me at sunrise right between the eyes
So come on, so come on, with me now, with me now
And be my waiting gun

What could I do she blew me away
She took my love oh she took it she gave it away
But ill be ok

She shot me at sunrise right between the eyes
She shot me at sunrise right between the eyes

So come on, so come on, with me now, with me now
And be my waiting gun

Talk with her and onto you
So be my gun until we're through, until we're through Until we're through, until we're through

She shot me at sunrise, oh, right between the eyes
She shot me at sunrise, oh, right between the eyes
So come on, so come on, with me now, with me now
And be my waiting gun
