When I look up to the sky and see the universe
I have to stop and wonder why It's so hard for me to find a world that thinks about more than simple "me, myself and I"

It's something I can see but for now will have to be
In my book of dreams
In my book of dreams
In my book of dreams

It's like we've traded good for bad now "bad" is "good"
a topsy-turvy world that makes me sad
I hope it's just a fad Cuz if it ain't we'll have to face the fact that we've been had

It's just a day away but for now will have to stay
In my book of dreams
In my book of dreams
In my book of dreams

There's a chapter left untold I hope it's opened up long before I see myself grow old To watch it all unfold I've seen the ending a place beyond our wildest dreams, let's go

The ending of the age
The words jumped from the page
In my book of dreams
In my book of dreams
In my book of dreams
