Somewhere someone's time is up
And a rose lies on his grave
Somewhere someone's child is born
And takes an old man's place
His dust spread by the wind
Another life begins
Excited 'bout what the new day will bring

You cannot hide
You cannot hide
You cannot hide!!
You cannot hide!!!

A man stands before a judge
Accused of taking lives
Thinking back on when he was young
Wish he could take back what he had done

Looking at the floor
Wished that he'd done more
Time has come to close the door

You cannot hide
You cannot hide
You cannot hide!!
You cannot hide!!!

Dust spreads by wind
Another life begins
Pass the key let the new light in

You cannot hide
You cannot hide
You cannot hide!!
You cannot hide!!!
