The fragile and the frail have woken
For our hearts and our minds are broken
Our hearts must try and focus

We've abstained from the name that they've prayed for
Of acclaim, now we're shamed, we're no more

Their lives are much more worth this
They need us
We owe this

The mercury, it boils
Losing amnesty, I know
It's the last time broken
Hearts must focus

The fragile and the frail have spoken
Save us from this hell, I know
It's the last time broken
We're not going home

It was you, it was me
That did nothing
The true altruistic fear our disease
These hearts must try and be free

The concealed will reveal the unseen
Prevention's not a myth and you'll see
Blinding light at the end of this bad dream

They need us
We owe this

The mercury, it boils
Losing amnesty, I know
It's the last time broken
Hearts must focus

The fragile and the frail have spoken
Save us from this hell, I know
It's the last time broken
We're not going home

It's not enough to just speak out
(Can you hear us now, can you hear us now)
Actions speak louder than doubt
(Can you hear us now, can you hear us now)
We're not going home
(Can you hear us now, can you hear us now)

The mercury, it boils
Losing amnesty, I know
It's the last time
It's the last time

The fragile and the frail have spoken
Save us from this hell, I know
It's the last time broken
We're not going home
We're not going home
We're not going home
