Oh my god oh so have you heard
She's dating him
He's playing her
It's the truth I swear
I heard it from a friend of a friends girlfriend

Don't dare, don't dare tell anyone
You didn't hear it from me
Forget I said a thing

Spread through the grapevines
Vicarious lives
Welcome home to the covers and headlines

Someone told a secret
Well you can't keep it
You're used to using them
Whispers your closest friends
Oh there goes the secret
Who started it
Who started it

Oh there's a secret
Who started it
Who, who started it

Gather round
Folks there's news today
Your boring life and bitter sweet charades
Take a chance, I dare
You to step out of line to find this time

Ask anyone
You didn't here it from me
The rumor's got a theme

Your time in the spotlight's
Now and you can't hide
Welcome home to the covers and headlines

Someone told a secret

Well you can't keep it
You're used to using them
Whispers your closest friends
Oh there goes the secret
Who started it
Who started it

Oh there's a secret
Who started it
Who, who started it

All your life has boiled right down to this
The very method used to feel you're important
For all the the things you said
Now you're the secret

Someone told a secret

Someone told a secret
Who started it
Who started it

Oh there's a secret
Who started it
Who, who started it

Oh my god oh so have you heard
Oh my god oh so have you heard
