She got in bed and turned out the light
I knew that something wasn't quite right
When I touched her I felt her sadness
While we were kissing it was pure madness
Did I hurt her? What did I say?
The distance between us won't go away

Did you ever make love to a girl in tears
And wonder why she was crying
Was it too intense? Was she full of fears?
Did she think that I was lying
When I told her that I loved her and I whispered in her ear

Before I made love to a girl in tears

It's easier to kiss than to talk
What does she expect? What does she want?
There's so much I wish I could give her
When I touched her I felt her shiver
If I lose her in the dark of the night
Will I regret it the rest of my life?
When I told her I loved her and I whispered in her ear
Before I made love to a girl in tears
A girl in tears
