Happy birthday Julie
My, it's good to see you, gal
The last time I saw you smile you were still my pal
Yeah, I sure did love you
But somehow you slipped away
Now instead of lovin' you
I'm reminiscin' on your birthday

(refrain)
Do you remember those warm summer nights when the stars hang in the air?
I didn't have a dime to my name, but you didn't care Now you've gotten married and everything has changed
But happy birthday Julie just the same

(Repeat refrain)
Yes happy birthday Julie just the same Julie . . .
