I've been around the bend
Feels like I'm on the move again
It all feels pretend
Sitting in this great big room

You want to know why
My silence makes a lonely sound
You want to know why
You've seen it all falling down

I'm on the run again
Getting bent again
I'm on the mend my friend

(Chorus)
It's four in the morning
Everything is not enough
The dark feels like frost
And your not here to give me love
The dark feels like frost
And your not here to hold me up

I've been around the bend
Jumped every hoop sat on a big fence
It seems so bloody bent
I wonder if it makes any kinda difference

You want to know why
I feel the knife pushing in my chest
You want to know why
It makes any kinda difference

I'm on the run again
Falling down again
I'm on the mend my friend

(Chorus)
It's four in the morning
Everything right now is not enough
The dark feels like frost
And your not here to give me love
The dark feels like frost

And your not here to hold me up
The dark feels like frost
And your not here to stop the crush

The dark feels like frost
And your not here to hold me up
