I see the flame burning
Can't help thinking about tomorrow
Watching the road in front of me
I see the cars turn against the arrows

And the light travels
To a distant fence
And the glory we found
Found it's way into different hands

Before we had it all
But we lost the games we couldn't win
It's an endless fight that lasts forever
Our dreams are yesterday's sins
Our dreams are yesterday's sins

We played songs
That helped us through the shadows
We strayed from richness
That kept us feeling we had it
But this light held
No true defence
And the glory we found
Found its way into different hands

Before we had it all
But we lost the games we couldn't win
It's an endless fight that lasts forever
Our dreams are yesterday's sins
Our dreams are yesterday's sins

Our dreams are yesterday's sins
Our dreams are yesterday's sins
